Therefore, the faculty and staff of SER-Niños cultivate and maintain positive relationships with parents and other family members.

SER-Niños Charter School Mission

SER-Niños Charter School is a public school which provides an innovative dual language curriculum in the Gulfton area of Houston, Texas. It offers a high quality education through public and private funding to at-risk children in grades Pre-K through eighth. Student Code of Conduct SER-Niños Charter School

Purpose

A successful education process represents a significant commitment of community resources. The life-long benefits a student gains from education depends very much on the student's attitude toward learning and appropriate behavior while in a school setting. The Student Code of Conduct that follows is the school's specific response to requirements of Chapter 37 of the Texas Education Code, which requires public schools to define misconduct that may or must result in specific disciplinary consequences. This code, developed by SER-Niños faculty and administration, has been adopted by the Board of Directors and provides information and direction to students and parents regarding standards of behavior as well as consequences of misconduct.

Overview

The intent of the SER-Niños Charter School Student Code of Conduct is to assist in developing appropriate, positive social skills and behaviors as well as to address inappropriate and unacceptable behaviors and choices among its students through a set of consequences. These consequences will be correlated to the seriousness of the offense, the student's age and grade, the frequency of the misbehavior, the student's attitude, the effect of the misconduct on the school environment, and/or statutory requirements.

Issues related to student conduct are divided into four sections.

Section I	Standards for Student Conduct
Section II	Misconduct Violations and their Consequences
Section III	Removal of Students from the Regular Education Setting and Suspensions
Section IV	Expulsion, Emergency Removal, and the Appeals Process

SECTION – I STANDARDS FOR STUDENT CONDUCT

Each student is expected to:

- Demonstrate courtesy and respect for others
- Behave in a responsible manner
- Attend all classes, regularly and on time
- Prepare for each class and take appropriate materials and assignments to class
- Be well-groomed and dress appropriately
- Obey all campus and classroom rules
- Respect the property of others, including school property and facilities

- Cooperate with or assist the school staff in maintaining safety, order and discipline
- Avoid violations of the Student Code of Conduct

A student whose behavior shows disrespect for others, including interference with their access to a public education and a safe environment, will be subject to disciplinary action. School rules and the authority of the school to administer discipline apply whenever the interest of the school is involved on or off school grounds in conjunction with, or independent of, classes and school-sponsored activities.

SER-Niños has disciplinary authority over a student:

1. During the regular school day and while the student is going to and from school on school-provided transportation
2. While the student is participating in any activity during the school day on school grounds, within 1,000 feet of school property
3. While the student is in attendance at any school related activity, regardless of time or location
4. For any school-related misconduct, regardless of time or location
5. When retaliation against a school employee is involved either on or off school property
6. When the student commits a felony, as provided by Texas Education Code 37.008
7. When criminal mischief is committed on or off school property or at a school-related event

In general, discipline will be designed to correct misconduct and to encourage all students to adhere to their responsibilities as citizens of the school community. Disciplinary action will draw on the professional judgment of teachers and administrators and on a range of discipline management techniques. Disciplinary action will be correlated to the seriousness of the offense, the student's age and grade level, the frequency of misbehavior, the student's attitude, the effect of the misconduct on the school environment, and statutory requirements. Because of these factors, discipline for a particular offense (unless otherwise specified by law) may bring into consideration varying techniques.

The school may impose campus or classroom rules in addition to those found in the Student Code of Conduct. These rules may be listed in the student handbook or posted in classrooms and violations of these rules may or may not constitute violations of the Student Code of Conduct.

A student who violates campus or classroom rules that are not Student Code of Conduct violations may be disciplined by one or more of the discipline management techniques. For these violations, the teacher is not required to make a Student Code of Conduct violation report, and the principal is not required to notify parents.

The following discipline management techniques may be used alone or in combination for Student Code of Conduct and non Student Code of Conduct violation:

- Oral corrections
- Redirection
- Review, re-teach, and practice expectations
- Provide opportunities for students to practice expected behavior and provide descriptive feedback
- Cooling off time or “time-out”
- Seating changes in the classroom
- Teacher-student conference
- Student-counselor conference
- Parent-teacher conferences
- Temporary confiscation of items that disrupt the education process
- Grade reductions as permitted by the policy
- Rewards or demerits
- Behavioral contracts
- Loss of privileges
- Sending the student to the office, other assigned area, or to in-school suspension
- Detention
- Assigned school duties other than class tasks
- Withdrawal of privileges, such as participation in extra-curricular activities and eligibility for seeking and holding honorary offices
- Withdrawing or restructuring bus privileges
- School assessed and school administered probation
- Referral to outside agency and/or legal authority for criminal prosecution in addition to disciplinary measures imposed by the school
- Other strategies and consequences as specified by the Student Code of Conduct

Parental questions or complaints regarding the disciplinary measures taken should be addressed to the teacher or campus administration.

This exclusionary consequence should be used only after behavior interventions and supports have been exhausted
 - Exclusion from extracurricular activities, such as field trips and award ceremonies

SECTION III

Removal of Students from The Regular Education Setting

General misconduct violations will not necessarily result in the formal removal of the student from class or another placement, but may result in a routine referral or the use of any other discipline management technique.

FORMAL REMOVAL (BY A TEACHER)

Formal removal will result if the student's behavior has been documented by the teacher as repeatedly being unruly, disruptive, or abusive and interferes with the teacher's ability to teach his or her class. Any removal of a student by a teacher requires that a Student Code of Conduct violation report be made by the teacher if the student's conduct is a violation of this Code. The Principal or appropriate administrator must send a copy of the report to the student's parents or guardian within 24 hours of receiving the teacher's report.

A teacher or administrator may also remove a student from class for an offense from the student suspension list. If the violation results in formal removal, the Principal will schedule a conference within three school days with the student's parent, the teacher, and the student.

At the conference, the Principal or appropriate administrator will inform the student of the misconduct under review and give the student an opportunity to give his or her version of the incident. The Principal or appropriate administrator will notify the student of the consequence of the Student Code of Conduct violation if warranted.

If a student is removed from the regular classroom and a conference is pending, the Principal may place a student in:

- Another appropriate classroom, or
- In-school suspension

Suspension/Optional Removal

State law allows a student to be suspended for up to three school days per offense, with no limit on the number of times a student may be suspended in a semester or school year. An in-school suspension may not exceed five consecutive days, and an out-of school suspension may not exceed three consecutive days for any act of misconduct, State law prohibits the suspension or expulsion of students prior to third grade unless required by law.

A student who is to be suspended will be given an informal conference by the Principal or appropriate administrator advising the student of the conduct with which he or she is charged. The student will be given the opportunity to explain his or her version of the incident.

The Principal or other appropriate administrator will determine the duration of a student's suspension, which cannot exceed three school days.

A suspended student is restricted from participation in school-sponsored or school-related extracurricular and non-curricular activities for the duration of the suspension.

A teacher may remove a student from class for an offense for which a student may be suspended. A decision to suspend a student is final and may not be appealed. A student may be suspended or placed into in-school suspension.
